The U.S.-Vietnam Dialogue Group: Make Agent Orange History
Track Two diplomacy and the case of the U.S.-Vietnam Dialogue Group

Reflection Paper (minimum four to five double spaced pages):

a) Explain how Track Two and Multi-track diplomacy have been effective in moving the Agent Orange issue forward.

b) Identify and discuss at least three of the five key elements of Track Two talks. What are considerations for convening a citizen-to-citizen dialogue group and why are these elements important?

c) Describe the role of the character you impersonated within the Dialogue Group. Talk about your experience in the discussion considering high and low points, difficulties and breakthroughs. Were you able to see your own interest within the larger interest of the group? Why is this notion important in citizen-to-citizen dialogue?
